

Handango Forms™

Forms Automation for Mixed Mobile Environments

For anyone looking to enhance their data collection method, now there is a way for you to eliminate expenses, increase productivity and access data faster.

Handango Forms is a mobile forms automation solution that enables you to build forms effortlessly for any handheld and aggregate data into existing databases in real time.

Handango Forms features two components. First the Handango Forms Manager provides forms authoring and distribution capabilities, allowing creation of even sophisticated forms effortlessly. Second, the Handango Forms Client provides the wireless handheld component for faster collection and transfer. Together, these components provide a complete solution for mobile data collection. Standard and Enterprise versions are available.

Handango Forms helps you eliminate expenses associated with other methods of data collection, improve data accuracy, increase field worker productivity and speed access to field data results. For a free demo, contact Handango Software today.

"To support our customers effectively, our on-call support people needed access to information without being tethered to a desktop PC. Handango Forms and RIM Wireless Handhelds™ give us the ability to be more proactive in our support efforts. As an extra bonus, Handango Forms is able to access backend databases enabling us to give time critical support to sales people in the field, giving them the extra ammunition needed to beat the competition."

Kerry Podolsky
 Director of System Software
 AlarmNet/ADEMCO, a division of Honeywell, Inc.

"We needed a cost-effective and easy-to-use way to survey our classrooms. With Handango Forms, we are able to capture inspections electronically, access the data more quickly and easily, and reduce the costs associated with our remote inspections without draining our internal IT resources. All of this simply adds up to better service for our clients - the families and children of Florida."

Desiree D. Haubner
 Director of Administrative Operations
 Episcopal Children's Services of Florida
